Tammy Wawro
Vice President
Iowa State Education Association

Tammy Wawro, a teacher serving as student teaching/mentor coordinator for the Cedar Rapids schools, was elected vice president of Iowa State Education Association (ISEA) in April of 2008 by the nearly 400 delegates who attended the ISEA's annual meeting in Ames.

Wawro has been involved in a wide array of Association activities throughout her career including serving as vice president and chief negotiator for the Cedar Rapids Education Association. In addition, she has chaired the membership committee, served as a faculty representative, and has been a member of a number of state and national taskforces. Wawro is currently president of the Cedar Wood UniServ Unit.

Nationally, Wawro has been a trainer for the NEA Family School Community Partnership, and she's been a presenter for the Center for Collaborative Solutions. She received National Board Certification in 1999.

In addition to being active in the Association, Wawro has also been honored for her professional achievements having earned National Board Certification in 1999 and being named winner of the Mildred Middleton Mentoring Leadership Award in 2006.

Wawro received her bachelor's degree in elementary education from the University of Northern Iowa in 1995 and a master's degree in educational technology from the University of Northern Iowa in 2002. She began her two-year term on June 14.

The ISEA is a professional association made up of nearly 33,000 educators who are dedicated to supporting and protecting a quality public education for all Iowa students. Great Education. It's an Iowa Basic!
